“My Muzik is peculiar and I don’t anticipate Everyone to like My Muzik for I Muzik deviates from What is standard, normal, or expected”

“Muzik is the soundtrack to life” -Hempress Sativa

Kerida Shushana Johnson (born July 15, 1984), known professionally as Hempress Sativa, is a contemporary reggae singer and songwriter from Jamaica. His music aligns with the roots reggae tradition with variations of hip hop, afrobeats and R&B. Born and raised in Papine, Jamaica to Rastafarian parents, Doris-Ray Johnson and Albert 'Ilawi Malawi' Johnson of Jah Love Sound System, she was exposed to music from an early age. During an interview with World A Reggae, she spoke about her youth:

“My dad would give my siblings and I the microphone and record everything that came out. So I have on the records what I looked like when I was 4 and over. At the age of 13, I played King Bebo Lawn for the very first time as part of a Twelve Tribes of Israel showcase”.

IN 2011

«Ooh LaLaLa (The Weed Thing)», which is a tribute to marijuana and its healing properties. The song also pays homage to Lauryn Hill, the Fugees and their international hit, «Fu-Gee-La».

IN 2013

HEMPRESS SATIVA - SCHEME

(Scheme Lyrics)
Half of story has never been told

Chorus
Half of the Story has never been told
Same one them say Curse who wrote
the Dead Sea Scrolls
See them alter human DND gene code Darkness comes to light and now the truth unfold.
Half of the story has never been told
Secret society of the skull and bones
A meet behind the scene at the
Bohemian Grove
So they determine which Elite will Dominate the Globe
